RIHLA ROAd

"My grandmother, mother, and aunts are an exceptionally talented group of artists.

My interior designer grandmother traveled extensively, collecting fabrics and art pieces along the way.

One of her favorite destinations was Morocco, with its stunning architecture, inspiring landscapes, and vibrant souks. I loved exploring her collection of fabrics, which likely inspired me to pursue a career in textile design.

The patterns in Rihla Road reflect these travels through ancient cities, dunes, and rugged mountains bordered by lush valleys. They evoke medieval souks filled with spices and textiles and trails through near-deserted mountain towns."
