BRINTONS DESIGNER UNVEILS NEW COLLECTION INSPIRED BY THE LANDSCAPES OF HOME

ATLANTA, AUGUST 7, 2026 | Brintons, a global leader in high-quality woven carpets, announces the launch of Tirranna, the latest Self Expression Summer 2026 collection from designer Lucy Hinde.

Tirranna is a deeply personal collection that celebrates craftsmanship, memory, and the landscapes that shape our creative identities.

Inspired by the rural Australian home where Lucy grew up, Tirranna draws from a heritage stone house built in the 1830s in New South Wales. Originally a bakery serving the small village of Tirrannaville, the home and its surrounding landscape became the foundation of Lucy's creative imagination, inspiring a collection that captures the beauty of place through contemporary design.

Growing up at Tirranna fostered in Lucy a deep appreciation for thoughtful craftsmanship. Her parents transformed the property with sandstone pathways, wild gardens, eccentric sheds, and unexpected outdoor spaces that encouraged creativity, curiosity, and a lasting connection to nature. These formative experiences are woven throughout the collection, where the organic geometry of hand-laid paving, the rhythm of winding garden paths, and the layered textures of native and cultivated plants are reimaged as sophisticated carpet designs.

"The home and its surrounding landscape became the foundation of my creative imagination," Lucy says. "Every stone path, flowering garden, and hidden corner holds a memory. Tirranna is my way of celebrating the place that taught me to see beauty in craftsmanship, texture, and the stories our surroundings tell."

Memories of fragrant jonquils, sculptural agapanthus, cascading wisteria, and distinctive stonework continue to influence the way Lucy sees pattern, texture, and form. Through considered colour palettes and layered textures, the collection transforms these familiar elements into contemporary designs that are both expressive and timeless, celebrating the enduring influence of home.

Derived from an Aboriginal word meaning "running water," Tirranna reflects the way memories shift and evolve over time. The collection pays tribute to craftsmanship, landscape, and the lasting connections we form with the places that shape us. Rooted in personal history yet designed for contemporary interiors, Tirranna invites new memories to be made while honouring those that came before.

Tirranna launches Friday, August 7, 2026, on the Brintons website and Design Studio Online.
